TRANSIT BOARD TELLS TROLLEY LINE TO STOP RUNNING

Queens Trolley Company Must Get New Cars or Close Up Shop.

The Public Service Corporation this afternoon served notice on the Manhattan and Queens Traction Corporation, which operates a trolley line from the foot of Fifty-ninth street, Manhattan, across the Queensboro Bridge to Grand street, Newtown, Borough of Queens, that it cease to operate cars at midnight to-morrow. It is claimed by the Commission that seventeen out of the eighteen cars used by the corporation are unsafe in that the brakes are defective and not appropriate for hills and grades; also that the "cars are old enough to vote," meaning that they have been twenty-one years in service or over.

The condition of the trolley road came up before the commission at to-day's meeting when Commissioner Rustle introduced the following resolution: "That the Manhattan and Queens Traction Corporation shall cease to operate its equipment at or before Jan. 9 at midnight and shall overhaul all rolling equipment now in use and make all repairs necessary to put said equipment in safe operating condition and maintain same in said condition until supplanted by new cars."

The action by the Commission followed a report by Engineer Clifton W. Wilder, who first made the assertion that the cars were old enough to vote. Commissioner Rustle said in addition to this that he had testimony that cars twenty-one years in service were not fit for use.

It also developed during the investigation of the Manhattan and Queens Traction cars that two of them had run away because, it was alleged, the defective brakes had refused to hold. Several persons were hurt during a collision supposed to have been caused by lack of up-to-date equipment.

The corporation affected by to-day's order of the Public Service Commission was at one time part of the old South Shore Traction Company, which was controlled by Joseph G. Robin.

Boy Playing Policeman Drinks Acid
While playing policeman last night in his father's saloon, at No. 22 Hester street, Nicholas Damato, eight years old, went behind the bar to get a drink. He picked up a bottle and took a good swallow. The bottle contained muriatic acid. Nicholas was pumped out at Gouverneur Hospital and went home determined to become a fireman.

ALL IS JOY BETWEEN HEARST AND MITCHEL

So Says Shearn, Who Also Says He Is Not After the Corporation Counselship.

Clarence J. Shearn denied to-day that he delivered an ultimatum to Mayor Mitchell to give to William R. Hearst the naming of a Corporation Counsel or look out for equals. The story of the reported break between the Mayor and Mr. Hearst is to the effect that the editor wants either Montgomery Hare or Clarence J. Shearn appointed to the head post in the law department. The Mayor is understood to have turned down the Hare proposition.

When it became known that Mr. Shearn had lunched with the Mayor at the Whitehall Club conclusions were immediately reached that Shearn was giving the Mayor the final warning.

This is what Mr. Shearn had to say: "I carried no ultimatum to Mr. Mitchell because he invited me to. The subject of appointments was not referred to."

"I am not a candidate for office nor have I been urged for appointment. I wrote to Mr. Mitchell on Dec. 28 to that effect."

RACE TRACK MAN WINS.

$25,000 Award for Cahill Against Theophilus Gilman Heir.

A jury in the Brooklyn Supreme Court awarded to-day to Thomas F. Cahill, who was at one time well known on the race track, $25,000 from the estate of the late Theophilus Gilman, who was a half brother of the millionaire George F. Gilman, founder of the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Store system. The suit was tried before Justice Bonadich.

Cahill contended that he was employed by Theophilus Gilman as secretary, companion and confidential man from Oct. 30 down to the day of Mr. Gilman's death Aug. 7, 1912. He demanded for his services $7,500. Lester C. Gilman, executor of the estate of Theophilus Gilman, contested the claim.

Testimony was adduced to show that Cahill was employed as he said. The jury was instructed to determine how many days such employment included and that pay per diem should be awarded. Judgment was rendered for 1,313 days at $5 a day.

Part of Cahill's duties was to place bets for his employer with the bookmakers on the race track.

Eat and Get Thin

This is turning an old phrase face about, but modern methods of reducing fat have made this assertion possible.

If you are overweight and also averse to physical exertion and likewise fond of the table and still want to reduce your excess flesh several pounds, do this: Go to your druggist (or write the Marmola Co., Farmer Building, Detroit, Mich.) and give him (or send them) 75 cents. For this modest amount of money the druggist will put you in the way of satisfying your ambition for a nice, trim, slim figure. He will hand you a large case of Marmola Prescription Tablets (compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription), one of which you must take after each meal and at bedtime until you begin to lose your fat at the rate of 12 to 16 ounces a day. That is all. Just go on eating what you like, leave exercise to the athletes, but take your little tablet faithfully and without a doubt that fleshy flesh will quickly take unto itself wings, leaving behind it your natural self, neatly clothed in firm flesh and trim muscles.
